Dear issuer,

CMS has received numerous requests from issuers requesting to run another Risk Adjustment (RA) and Reinsurance (RI) calculation prior to the scheduled March calculation run. In response to these requests, CMS has decided to run an additional RA and RI calculation on February 23rd.

Issuers, who had unsuccessful runs during the February 12th calculation run, will receive feedback on how to resolve their issues in a separate correspondence.

The February 27th software release will include an enhancement which will allow issuers to run future RA and RI calculation on their own at their discretion.
